FOREWORD

This fourth volume is the last one in the descriptive catalogue of manuscripts kept at the French Institute of Pondicherry and published in printed form.

It describes 100 bundles of palm leaves, being 927 texts which brings the number of bundles described in these four volumes to 475 and the number of texts to 3677 (Vol. I: 115 bundles for 981 texts; Vol. II: 160 bundles for 1035 texts; Vol. III: 100 bundles for 734 texts).

The catalogue, from now onwards entitled Paraṃparā, is continued in electronic form. This allows for the preservation of the texts, for their easy diffusion and facilitates analysis of the collection[1].

A few words of reminder about the collection: it was started in 1955, just after the founding of the French Institute of Pondicherry and was halted in 1990. Its aim has been to collect the texts related to Śaivism as practised in South India, especially in Tamilnadu.

Unique of its kind, it comprises today in the vicinity of 8240 bundles of palm leaves and 360 bundles of sheets of paper. To this assemblage are added 1188 transcripts, written on paper in devanāgarī, of Sanskrit texts. Amongst the manuscripts, 6850 are in Sanskrit, 1200 in Tamil, or Tamil and Sanskrit; 140 are in Tuḷu, 115 in Telugu, or Tamil and Telugu, and the rest in Malayalam, Kannada etc. The script is mainly Grantha and Tamil but several other scripts are also represented.

With the exception of transcripts made for the Institute the manuscripts come from private collections, having originally belonged to Śaiva priests. Their form and content reflects the fact that they were intended for professional use. As for the former, most of these texts have come down to us gathered together in bundles as constituted by those who used them. They are generally brief texts dealing with specific subjects. These texts may themselves be extracts from longer works, whether so identified or not, or they may simply be notes. Thematic groupings are rare (e.g. collections of stotra etc.) The collection does however include a number of complete texts.

[1] A demonstration CD Rom may be obtained from the French Institute of Pondicherry and there is a list of scanned and catalogued manuscripts on the Institute's web site.

The content of the texts matches the preoccupations of their users most of whom were officiating priests and, consequently, many of the texts contain ritual prescriptions. Doctrine and questions of theology are far from being absent, however, and a number of texts are concerned with these. For a survey of the subjects treated in the collection, based on a sample of 734 texts, we refer the reader to our introduction to the preceding volume of the catalogue.

The computerized catalogue now makes possible an ever finer analysis of the corpus by defining all these texts according to their form and content; this is a difficult task never before systematically attempted.

The collection, thus preserved and analysed, will afford insight into the history of the Śaiva tradition in this part of South India over the last few centuries. It also bears witness to a tradition of manuscript transmission of an entire body of knowledge until the end of the 19th century, when printing began to gain ground. As is well known, manuscripts on palm leaves do not withstand the climatic conditions of the region for much more than three hundred years.

This final volume is in the same format as the three preceding ones. We follow these conventions: additions (numbering of folios, titles added, etc.) are placed between square brackets, as are corrections (e.g. pañcā[ca]), and, also, conjectures which are followed by a question mark (e.g. samo[?śyāmā]). A letter or syllable to be deleted is directly followed by the sign () (e.g. dadhiṃ() for dadhi), and an incomprehensible word for which no correction or conjecture has been found, is directly followed by a question mark in parentheses (e.g. allanalane(?)). A lacuna, of whatever extent, is indicated by a single asterisk on the line.

Pandit N. R. Bhatt and Professor B. Dagens were the originators of this programme. Professor V. Varadachari, to whose memory this volume is dedicated, was the mainstay of the work over many years. Without R. Subramanian, M. N. Sivaraja Dikshitar and S. Sambandhasivacharya, such a great number of texts would never have been deciphered.

Pratiṣṭhā and Stotra

RE. 20041. PL.; 12 fols.; 353 x 39 mm.; 6-7 lines; slightly damaged and not very old; Grantha; scribe: Mahādevan. Blank folio: 12b.

On the margin of the first folio number 11 is written and on the margin of the next leaf number 38. Thus the bundle appears to have lost 10 leaves at the beginning and 26 leaves after the 11th folio.

General Contents

1. Fol. 1. Vīratantra: Mātṛsthāpana; 2. 2a-12a: Gaṇapatisahasranāmastotra.

376.1 [VĪRATANTRA]

Mātṛsthāpana

This text contains the procedure for the installation of the Seven Divine Mothers. This forms part of the Vīratantra, IFP. T. 29, ch. 74. The text under discussion has 1-16 verses only.

Beginning

Fol. 1a, 1. 1. praṇamya śirasā devaṃ grāma[brahmā] praścati[pṛcchati] śaṃkaram / mātṝṇāṃ sthāpanam kiṃ vā tat sarvam brūhi me prabho / īśvaraḥ / tat sarvam akhilaṃ vakṣye śṛṇuṣva caturānanā / brāhmī māheśvarīṃ caiva kaumārī vaiṣṇavī tathā / māheśvarī tathendrāṇī cāmuṇḍā vīrabhadrakam /

376.2 GAṆAPATISAHASRANĀMASTOTRA

The same as n° 235.1.

According to the colophon, this forms part of the Padmapurāṇa. It begins with śl. n° 63 and goes up to the end. While n° 235.1 contains the stotra proper, the present text contains the phalaśruti portion also. GOML. D. 8794 contains the same text but its colophon ascribes it to the Āgneyapurāṇa.

Beginning

Śaiva texts and Stotra-s

RE. 20042. PL.; 200 fols.; 440 x 25 - 472 x 34 mm.; 4-8 lines; slightly injured; Grantha and Tamil; date: Śaka 1520 [1598 A.D.] (vide fol. 152b); scribe: Daivaśikhāmaṇibhaṭṭar. Blank fols.: [163b], [181b] and [197b].

General contents

1. Fols. 1a-152b: Śaivabhūṣaṇa with Tamil gloss; 2. [153a]-[162b]: Vāsanārcana; 3. [164a]-[180b]: Śivasahasranāmāvali; 4. [182a]-[192b]: Saṃkīrṇaviṣaya; 5. [193a]-[194a]: Śivāṣṭaka; 6. [194a]-[197a]: Saṃkīrṇaviṣaya.

Two leaves between fols. 152 and 153 contain Tamil verses and a few lines enumerating the qualities of a Śaiva; fol. [163a] has a few lines from a commentary on the Siddhāntasārāvali; fol. [181a], some lines about the placing of gems and stones while building the temple; fol. [198], a few lines on bherītāḍana and a few riddles; fols. [199] and [200] have some statements regarding pollution and purification.

Bhadrakālīpratiṣṭhā and other texts

RE. 20043. PL.; 97 fols.; 220 x 32 mm.; 3-8 lines; old and some leaves are worm-eaten; Grantha and Tamil; written in two different hands. Blank fols.: [1Ab], 41b, 48b and 66b. Missing fols.: 63, 70, 89, 90, 94 and 96.

General contents

1. Fols. 1a-12b: Bhadrakālīnityapūjā; 2. 13a-14b: Bhadrakālīpratiṣṭhā; 3. 15a-39b: Bhadrakālyutsavavidhi; 4. 40a-41a: Bhadrakālyagnikāryavidhi; 5. 42a-45b: Bhadrakālīmaṇḍapapūjā; 6. 46a-48a: Mātṛpuṇyāhavidhi; 7. 49a-66a: Bhadrakālīpratiṣṭhāvidhi; 8. 67a-85b: Rudrayāmala: Kālīnityapūjāvidhāna, etc.; 9. 85b-95b: Bhadrakālīmahotsavavidhāna.

Fol. 1Aa has a verse in praise of Vināyaka; fol. 1B, a table of contents of some other work dealing with the rituals of Bhadrakālī; fol. 41b, a list of animals and birds that are offered to the Goddess as bali; 12 folios not detailed in the above list of contents follow: two fragmentary folios numbered 97 and 98 contain an incomplete treatment of the Maṇḍapapūjāvidhāna of Bhadrakālī which may be part of the above mentioned Bhadrakālīmahotsavavidhāna; three broken folios contain an unidentified ritual; 2 folios, both numbered 73, describe another matter with identical expressions; 2 folios, both numbered 63 have unidentified matter; there are 3 more folios of which the last is a fragment of the Bhadrakālīmahotsavavidhāna; the remaining two contain Bhadrakālīnityapūjāvidhāna and Bhadrakālīnityāgnihomavidhāna which are mere repetitions of the matter in fols. 67a-73a and 73a-78b respectively.

378.7 [BHADRAKĀLĪPRATIṢṬHĀVIDHI]

This text deals with the procedure for the installation of Bhadrakālī. The procedure given here is different from the printed one: Bhadrakālīpratiṣṭhāvidhi, Kudumiyamalai, 1929, pp. 10-33. The last line is yāmalācāryebhyo namaḥ which implies that the said procedure may be based on some yāmala text. The printed text is also based on the Umāyāmala and the Kūrmayāmala. This text is partly similar to n° 132.2.

Texts on Jīrṇoddhāravidhi

RE. 20052. PL.; 165 fols.; 389 x 33 mm.; 6-9 lines; injured and some leaves are broken and lost; Grantha; old; owner: Svāmināthabhaṭṭar. Blank fols.: 1Ab, 1Ba, 1Eb, 1Fb, 40b, 91b, 108b, 124b, 141b and 159b. Missing fols.: 139 and 140.

There are 65 texts in this Ms. Among these 26 deal with the act of renovation of temples. 21 agree with the printed editions of the Āgamas as well as with the IFP.T. Mss. Among the other texts many claim to be part of a particular Āgama as mentioned in the colophon. For instance, 4 texts (386.2, 21, 23 and 24) dealing with jīrṇoddhāra, said to be part of the Yogajāgama, have nothing common among themselves. Similarly texts with n° 386.19, 20, 26 and 28 dealing with the jīrṇoddhāra, are stated to form part of the Kāraṇāgama but only the first concords with the printed text.

IFP.T. 1074 is a transcript copy of this manuscript.

386.5 BIMBĀGAMA

Jīrṇoddhāravidhi

This text, which, according to the colophon, forms part of the Bimbāgama. The Bimba, also called Mukhabimba, is traditionally the 20th Mūlāgama; but no manuscript transmits a complete text of the work.

Beginning

Fol. 7a, 1. 3. ataḥ paraṃ pravakṣyāmi jīrṇoddhāravidhikramam / bhavane maṇḍape caiva liṃge bere tu piṇḍike / prākāre gopure caiva anyeṣu jīrṇiteṣu ca / svāyambhuvādiliṅgeṣu jīrṇoddhāran na kārayet / ajñānā[n] mohato vāpi rājarāṣṭraṃ vinaśyati / tasmāt sarvaprayatnena mūlaliṅgan na kārayet /

386.6 SVĀYAMBHUVA, (UTTARA-)

Jīrṇoddhāravidhi

This text describes the procedure of renovation. This treatment forms part of the Svāyambhuvāgama, the 13th Mūlāgama. This agrees with the treatment of this topic in IFP. T. 247, pp. 305-309 but differs from n° 118. 35.

Beginning

386.7 SŪKṢMAŚĀSTRA

Jīrṇoddhāravidhi

This text deals with the act of renovation in temples according to the Sūkṣmāgama, the 7th Mūlāgama. This has little in common with IFP.T. 36 and is considerably shorter.

Beginning

Fol. 10b, l. 6. sarvāṅgānāṃ kṣayan dṛṣṭvā prāsādasya viśeṣataḥ / taddravyeṇaiva kuryāccai[°dvai] pūrvoktavidhinā sahā[ha] / varadravyeṇa kuryād vā yathāvittānusārataḥ / salakṣaṇasya dhāmnas tu varadravyeṇa saṃskṛtam / tasmāt sarvaprayatnena hīnañ caivaṃ na kārayet / pratiṣṭhāvidhimārgeṇa pratiṣṭhāṃ kārayet budhaḥ /

End

Fol. 12a, l. 1. anyadvā bāṇaliṅgaṃ vā sthāpayet vidhinā budhaḥ / paurāṇikasya liṃgasya yadvā mānaṃ kṣayaṃ yadi / sūkṣmaśāstreṇa matimān karma kuryāt krameṇa tu / paścāt samprokṣaṇaṃ kuryāc chāstradṛṣṭena karmaṇā / iti sūkṣmaśāstre jīrṇoddhāravidhipaṭalaḥ / śrīsomasundaragurave namaḥ /

386.8 [KĀMIKĀGAMA]

Jīrṇoddhāravidhi

On the margin of fol. 12a is written kāmike jīrṇoddhāravidhi. There is no colophon. This text agrees with the Kriyārṇava, IFP. T. 80, p. 107, where the colophon states that it forms part of the Kāraṇāgama. The text here is too brief and it could not be determined whether it is part of the Kāraṇa or the Kāmika.

Beginning

Fol. 12a, l. 4. spha[sphu]ṭite khaṇḍite bhinne nāśiteśanināgninā / unmatte [unmattaiś] caiva corair vā nāśite śatrubhis tathā / saritsrotakarībhyāṃ vā mlecchair vāpi vijīrṇite / kṣetra[ṃ] jīrṇaṃ yathā kṣetrī tyaktvānyaṃ pratipadyate / tathā jīrṇāni bimbāni sadyo muñcanti devatāḥ /

End

Fol. 12a, l. 8. tasmād uddharaṇaṃ cā[ca] * ste * karmaṇā / tasmāt sarvaprayatnena jīrṇoddhāraṃ samācaret / śrīgurubhyo namaḥ /

386.9 SUPRABHEDA

Jīrṇoddhāravidhi

This text is, according to the colophon, part of the Suprabhedāgama, the 10th Mūlāgama. The treatment in this text is brief and does not agree with the printed edn.(CP) or any IFP.T.Ms.

Fol. 12b, 1. 2. beraviṣaye bhrūrekhā pakṣmarekhā ca āsyarekhā ca nāsikā / eteṣāṃ ca kṣayan dṛṣṭvā pratimaṃ[māṃ] parivarjayet / tad beran tu parigrāhya samudre tu vinikṣipet / liṃgaṃ vā pratimāṃ harmyaṃ maṇḍapaṃ gopuran tu vā / prākāraparivāraṃ vā ye jīrṇās te salakṣaṇāḥ / tena dravyeṇa cotkṛṣṭaiḥ pūrvavat parikalpayet / pratiṣṭhāvidhimārgeṇa pratiṣṭhāṃ kārayet budhaḥ / iti suprabhede kriyāpāde jīrṇoddhārapaṭalaḥ / śrīgurubhyo namaḥ /

386.10 KĀŚYAPĪYA

Jīrṇoddhāra

This too is brief in its treatment.

Fol. 12b, 1. 6. kāśyape bhrūrekhā pakṣmarekhā ca āsyarekhāpi lāṅgake(?) / saṃtyajya sahasā beraṃ sthāpayet pūrvavan navam / lohaje mṛnmaye bere hastanāsyaṃghribhūṣaṇe / karṇādyantavihīne tu tatta[d]dravyai[r] dṛḍhīkṛtam / uttamāṃgavihīne tu kṛtvānyaṃ yojayen navam / iti kāśyapīye jīrṇoddhārapaṭalaḥ /

386.11 MAYAMATA

Jīrṇoddhāra

This extremely brief text, dealing with the act of renovation, claims in the colophon to be part of the Mayamata but is not found in the printed text.

Fol. 13a, 1. 1. lohajaṃ śailajaṃ liṅgan dārujaṃ mṛnmayan tu vā / kārayet viśeṣeṇa lakṣaṇoktena deśikaḥ / śamībilvamadhūkaiś ca aśvatthodumbarais tathā / bālaliṅgaṃ prakartavyaṃ mṛṇ[mṛn]mayaṃ cet suvaktṛkam[?supakvakam] / iti mayamate jīrṇoddhārapaṭalaḥ / śrīgurubhyo namaḥ /

386.12 RAURAVA

Jīrṇoddhāravidhi

It is a part of the Rauravāgama, IFP. n° 18.3, ch.55. It does not have the entire treatment.

Fol. 13a, 1. 3. bhrūrekhā pakṣmarekhā cāsyarekhā ca nāsikā / sarvāṃgānāṃ kṣayan dṛṣṭvā pratimāñ ca visarjayet / lohajānān tu sarveṣāṃ aṅgahīne tu sambhavet / tadvad aṅgaṃ punaḥ kāryaṃ mukhahīnaṃ na kārayet / nābhimadhyamahīnm()e tu sandhānaṃ na samācaret / mṛnmaye varṇahīne cet punaḥ kṛtvā samārabhet / chinnaṃ bhinnaṃ puna[r] grāhyaṃ jīrṇaṃ cet tu navīkṛtam / pratimāṃ śūlahīnan tu jīrṇoddhāran tu kārayet / iti raurave jīrṇoddhāravidhipaṭalaḥ / śrīsomasundaragurave namaḥ /

387.1 ŚIVAPŪJĀPADDHATI

This text is a manual on the procedure of daily worship at the temple. Its author, Abhiṣekasundaranātha, alias Saundaranāthapaṇḍita, son of Akhilāṇḍapaṇḍitācārya, states at the beginning that he is compiling the manual after consulting the Kāmika, the Kāraṇa and other Āgama-s at the request of many eminent ādiśaiva-s at Madurai. The author initially enumerates 36 items constituting the daily worship and briefly explains them in what follows.

Beginning

MAHĀSAṂHITĀ[KUMĀRATANTRA]

Mahābhiṣeka

This text deals with the procedure of Mahābhiṣeka to be performed to Subrahmaṇya. It agrees fully with the treatment of the same topic in ch. 45 of the printed edition of the Kumāratantra, SIAA., 1974. Mahāsaṃhitā is another name for the Kumāratantra.

[NITYAKARMAVIDHI]

This text describes the daily practices of the śaiva priests. It briefly deals with śauca, snāna, puṇyāha, pañcāmṛta and nityārcana. Though the portion dealing with nityārcana is said in the colophon to form part of the Kāraṇāgama it is at the most based on it. Some verses recited during the meditation on Śiva are given at the beginning. Śivaprakāśam is written on the margin of fol. 1a.

Beginning

Fol. [1a], 1. 1. pañca pañca uṣaḥkālaṃ saptapañcāruṇodaye / aṣṭapañcā iti prātaḥ śeṣā[s] sūryodaye smṛtāḥ / ācāryo arcakaś caiva sādhakolaṃkṛtas tathā / pācako nāma ity ete pañcācāryaparicārakāḥ / śivadhyānam / dhavalavapuṣam indor maṇḍale sannirīkṣaṇaṃ [?sanniviṣṭaṃ] bhujaṅgavalai[la]yahāram / patmadiktāṃgam[?bhasmadigdhāṅgam] īśam / haru[ri]ṇaparaśupāniṃ cārucandrārdhamauliṃ hṛdayakamalamadhye santatam cintayāmi /

KṢAṆIKALIṄGAPŪJĀVIDHI

This text deals briefly with the worship of the liṅga which is made on the spot and disposed of immediately after the worship. According to the colophon this forms part of Nāradavākya. Nārada is mentioned in the Bṛhannāradīyapurāṇa in connection with the worship of Śiva but this text is not found there.

Beginning

Fol. [31a], 1. 1. kṛtvā tu vidhinā snānaṃ dehaśuddhin tataḥ param / pādaprakṣāḷanaṃ kṛtvā ācamya vidhinā budhaḥ / dharmārthakāmamokṣāṇāṃ kāraṇaṃ paramaṃ hitaṃ / sarvapāpakṣayakaraṃ sarvāriṣṭanivāraṇam / sarvasampatpradañ caiva kalau sarvārthasādhanam /

390.8 [LIṄGALAKṢAṆA]

This text gives details about the characteristic features of various types of liṅga-s such as bāṇaliṅga, nimittaliṅga, etc. It is a compilation of verses from Āgama texts such as the Kāmika, the Sūkṣma, the Aṃśumat and the Kālottara. The account of the bāṇaliṅga is more detailed.

Beginning

Fol. [37a], 1. 4. kāmike / bāṇo nāmāsuraḥ proktas * siddhyartham ādarāt / prārthayāmāsa pūjārthaṃ liṃgāni vividhāni ca / dattavān liṃgakoṭīnāñ caturdaśa maheśvaraḥ / tāni sampūjya kālānte / eṣu sthāneṣu nikṣipet /

SAHASRĀGAMA

Makuṭābhiṣekavetradānavidhi

This text briefly gives the procedure for the giving of the canestick (sceptre ?) by the preceptor to the king (his disciple ?) on the occasion of his abhiṣeka (coronation). Though the colophon mentions the source of this text as the Sahasrāgama this is not found in any of the IFP. T. Mss. of this Āgama. IFP. T. 4, of the Aṃśumadāgama, pp. 364-367, treats this topic in a different manner.

General contents

1. Fols. 2a-36a: Sakalāgamasaṃgraha; 2. 36a-37b: Ārdrāvrata; 3. 37b-38a: [Śaktitrayaniyama]; 4. 38a-39b: [Vināyakavrata]; 5. 39b-46b: Sakalāgamasaṃgraha; 6. 47a-48a: Pārameśvaratantra: Ārdrābhiṣekavidhi; 7. 48a-53a: Sakalāgamasaṃgraha: Śivarātrinirṇayapūjāvidhi; 8. 53: Pradoṣanirṇaya; 9. 53b-54a: Adbhutaśāntividhi; 10. 54a-55a: Vātulakāmika: Navarātrinirṇaya.

Since fol.1a contains a note that the Yogapāda commences on fol. 167b and as fol. 55b also contains a note in English reading N.B. These palm-leaves are detached from original (initials) for reference (initials) 5.2.1939 this must be a part of a larger codex. Fol. 39b also contains some passages said to be taken from the Cintyāgama and the Siddhatantra with regard to taking the God and the Goddess in procession; fol. 46b, also a few lines on Bodhāyanāmāvāsyānirṇaya; fol. 53a, also on upākarma, etc.; fol. 55 contains some lines on Pradoṣanirṇaya, Paṭṭābhiṣekanirṇaya, Saṃkramaṇapuṇyakālanirṇaya and prohibiting marriage among members of the same gotra.

397.1 SAKALĀGAMASAṂGRAHA

This consists of 17 chapters, which, according to the colophon, belong to the Cidambararahasya forming part of the Sakalāgamasaṃgraha. There are many texts in IFP. bearing the title Sakalāgamasaṃgraha with their contents varying from each other. The colophons in this text read Cidambararahasyannāma śītakumbhavidhipaṭalaḥ, cidambararahasyannāma saṃkramapūjāvidhipaṭalaḥ, etc. Since all of them cannot be the Cidambararahasya these texts may be taken to be parts of the Cidambararahasya and consequently the colophon in each of them may be interpreted to mean cidambararahasye śītakumbhavidhipaṭalaḥ and so on. Thus all these texts might be taken to be part of the Cidambararahasya which in turn forms part of the Sakalāgamasaṃgraha.

Contents

[52a], a verse on Subrahmaṇyadhyāna and fol. [76a] has a fragment of bherītāḍanaśloka.

398.1 ASTRĀVĀHANA

This text enumerates the various parts of the triśūla in which different deities are worshipped at the time of dhvajārohaṇa. This seems to be a brief version of devatāvāhana. As the fol.[9] is broken the matter is found incomplete.

Beginning

Fol. [9a], 1. 1. śivas sadāśivamaheśvarā śakti ādiśakti i * ti saṃhāratirobhāvānugrahaguruliṃgajaṃ * putramārgasakalapraḷayamāyākarma sa * raṇam astu śivāstrabhūtadivyaśūlamadhyapa

398.2 SUPRABHEDĀGAMA

Maṇḍapapūjāvidhi

This text deals with the worship of the maṇḍapa. Though the colophon states it to be part of the Suprabhedāgama it is at the most based on the said Āgama.

Beginning

Fol. [11a], 1. 1. paścāt saurārādhanaṃ kṛtvā bhasman nikṣipya sakaḷīkṛtya sāmānyārghyaṃ saṃkalpya pūrvāditoraṇe astreṇa samprokṣya kavacenāvakuṇṭhyā toraṇaśākhayoḥ oṃ hāṃ śāntitoraṇāya namaḥ / oṃ hāṃ ṛgvedāya namaḥ / toraṇapādayoḥ praśāntāya namaḥ / oṃ hāṃ śaśirāya namaḥ / dvāramadhyakumbhe oṃ hāṃ śāntikālādvārāya namaḥ /

Among these the Āgamasthāpanavidhi describes briefly the procedure of preparing the Āgama texts, the material to be used and its consecration. The Pāṣāṇapratyayavidhi lays down the method by which the truthfulness or otherwise of a person is found out. The Paraśupratyayavidhi describes the rituals, etc. for making an axe out of gold or silver which again is used in determining the truthfulness of a person. According to the Satyapratyayavidhi 9 pitchers placed in a pavilion are worshipped after fire-rituals. The words "true" and "untrue" are written in a palm-leaf and kept on the head of the Goddess which is circumambulated by the priest. The truth is supposed to be determined within 6 months. The Senāstambhavidhi and the Aśvastambhavidhi are rites by which the movements of the enemies' army and their horses can be arrested. Two texts on the Aṣṭamīpūjā differ slightly from each other and two on the Gauryarcana are incomplete. The Sthānanirdeśavidhi deals with the construction of a temple, pavilions, etc.

There are 13 T. Mss. of the Aṃśumadāgama in the IFP. Some of the topics here like Senāstambhavidhi, Dīpārohaṇavidhi and Japalakṣaṇavidhi are treated in all other T. Mss.; other topics are found only in some. The topics 2, 4-11, 13, 15, 17-20, 24, 25, 27, 29-31, 34, 36-38 are found in IFP. T. 273; T. 889 contains the topics 1, 3, 12, 22, 23 and 28; the topics 14, 16, 26 and 32 are in T. 1007 while topic 21 is found in T. 745. Topics 23 and 33 are incomplete; 35 is not found in any of the T. Mss. Topic 5 treats Pañcāmṛtavidhi but the colophon calls it Pañcagavyavidhi.

400.7 KĀRAṆA AND SVĀYAMBHUVA

Kṛttikādīpavidhi

The procedure given here for kṛttikādīpa is similar to that found in IFP. T. 40, pp. 219-226. Since the colophon reads iti kāraṇe pratiṣṭhātantre svāyambhuve kṛttikādīpavidhipaṭalaḥ the treatment may be based on both these Āgama-s or the word svāyambhuve might have been placed instead of svāyambhuva, meaning, the said kṛttikādīpa is for a svāyambhuvaliṅga. For similar nomenclature see n° 386.29.

Beginning

Fol. 53a, 1. 1. pūrvayuktavinādau(?) tu apare dīpam ācaret / pūrvara[ṛ]kṣasamāyuktam uttaman tu praśasyate / tasmin parvāṇi kartavyaṃ rohiṇī madhyamā bhavet / bharaṇirahitaṃ yena cāyamantu(?) praśasyate / viprai rājñā ca kartavyam uttaman tu praśasyate / vaiśyena madhyama[ṃ] jñeyaṃ caturthenādhamaṃ bhavet /

426.3 [NITYAKARMAVIDHI] and [NITYAPŪJĀVIDHI]

The rituals forming part of the daily worship of God Tanunātha at the temple situated in Tirucculi, Tamilnadu are described in this text. The text begins with those rituals which form part of the daily routine such as śayanotthāna, snāna, bhasmadhāraṇa, etc. Those rituals like antaryāga, prāṇāyāma, puṇyāhavācana and agnikārya which are also part of the worship are also dealt with. Agnikārya is treated between fols. [70a]-[73b] and though the colophon on fol. [73b] reads iti śrūmatkāraṇe ... nityāgnividhipaṭalaḥ the text is at the most based on the Kāraṇāgama. The text ends with the pañcāvaraṇapūjā. A few Tamil expressions are also used at some places.

430.8 UMĀYĀMALA

This text contains five chapters: 1. Fols. [36a]-[38b]: Yāmalabheda and Mātṛpūjāvidhi; 2. [38b]-[40a]: Mātṛpūjādhikāra and Nityavidhi; 3. [40a]-[42a]: Mātṛdīkṣākrama and Pañcācāryalakṣana; 4. [42a]-[43b]: Dīkṣāsaṃkaradoṣa; 5. [43b]-[48b]: Mantroddhāravidhi (incomplete).

Since some fols. are missing the Nityavidhi section may be incomplete.

The word lakṣapādādhike occuring in the colophons may be taken to mean more than one lakh verse quarters, that is, more than 25000 ślokas. This text assigns itself to the vidyāpīṭha. This is also said to have 87 parts. There are five chapters of which the first is numbered 1; the third, 25; the fourth, 5. The second and the fifth are not assigned numbers. Though the folios are arranged in order the numbering of the chapters is not consecutive.

Beginning

Fol. 430.9 DĪKṢĀ[VIDHI]

This text deals briefly with dīkṣā. It has lost the beginning and the end. This text seems to be based on some Yāmalatantra.

Beginning

Fol. [50a], 1. 1. * tam / gurvo[r] [ā]jñāpālakaśa[śra]ddhā[?lur] lo[?lau]lya-cāpalyavatvarjitā[taḥ] / vinayena guruṃ prāpya dīkṣārthaṃ prārthayet tadā / padī[rī]kṣyā[kṣya] dīkṣyatec chiṣyan na parīkṣan na dīkṣayet / tena samprārthito mantrais tayyānujñāntade(?) tadā /

NITYAPŪJĀVIDHI

RE. 20104. PL.; 23 fols.; 230 x 37 mm.; 6-9 lines badly damaged by insects; Grantha and Tamil; old.

Similar to n° 242.

This work seems to be a manual giving directions for the performance of daily worship to Śiva. It is said to be based on the Āgama-s like the Kāmika (fol. 3a). Since the original numbering of the folios starts from 106 and ends with 128, we can surmise that this work is a part of a bigger codex. This work is incomplete.

On fols. [1a], [12a], [12b] and [13a] the writing is in 2, 5, 4 and 2 columns respectively.

Contents

1. Fol. [1]: Sūryapūjāvidhi; 2. [1b]-[2b]: Anujñā, etc.; 3. [2b]-[3b]: Puṇyāha, etc.; 4. [4a]-[5b]: Pañcagavyavidhi, etc.; 5. [5b]-[6a]: Vardhanīsthāpana and Aṣṭavidyeśvarāvāhana; 6. [6]: Dvārapūjā; 7. [6b]-[7b]: Āsanapūjā; 8. [7b]-[11b]: Śrīkaṇṭhanyāsa; 9. [12a]-[14a]: Padamantra, etc.; 10. [14b]-[15a]: Pañcāvaraṇapūjā; 11. [15]: Saptamātṛpūjā; 12. [15b]-[16b]: Agnikāryavidhi; 13. [16b]-[21a]: Balividhi. 14. [21b]-[22a]: Aghorāstramantra with dhyāna and nyāsa.

Fols. [22a]-[23b] contain verses from the Suprabheda, the Kāmika, the Vātula and other āgama-s defining the pañcāsana-s and praising Śiva.

439.2 [NITYĀNUṢṬHĀNA]
and [PRĀYAŚCITTA]

This anonymous text is a manual on daily ritual. There are profuse citations from a large number of Āgama texts and the author also refers to texts like the Siddhāntasārāvali, the Somaśambhupaddhati, the Śivapūjāstava and its commentary. Some of the intricate points like the importance of Sūryapūjā and making Śiva face the worshipper during worship are discussed in detail.

Many folios are lost which contained original numbers at the beginning and in the middle of the text and it now starts with the six kinds of bath and proceeds with Bhasmotpatti, Bhasmadhāraṇa, Pañcaśuddhi, Āvāhana and Prāyaścitta. The portion dealing with the āvāhana ends abruptly and Prāyaścittavidhi is commenced.

AṂŚUMADBHEDAKĀŚYAPA

RE. 20170. PL.; 158 fols.; 322 x 35 mm.; 7-8 lines; injured, Grantha and Tamil; old. Blank folio: 158b.

This Ms. contains 30 paṭala-s of the Aṃśumadbhedakāśyapa, an upāgama of the Aṃśumadāgama. All the paṭala-s deal with iconography and architecture. This text is partly in Tamil. Most of the Tamil portions paraphrase what is said in Sanskrit. The first paṭala is numbered 52 and the last, 81. The 50th paṭala is given after the 52nd. and nos. 51 and 53 are omitted. The 66th paṭala may be the one numbered 68 on fol. 96b. The colophons found on fols. 106b and 107b, do not mention the paṭala number but they may be the 68th and the 69th respectively. The text breaks off at the beginning of the Kalkavidhāna and hence it is incomplete.

KĀMIKAPADDHATI

RE. 20180. PL.; 81 fols.; 358 x 34 mm.; 6 lines; good condition; Grantha; not very old; origin: Tirunelveli, Tamilnadu. Blank folio: Fly-leaf 'b'.

This text deals with the rituals connected with Jīrṇoddhārāṣṭabandhana. It starts with the kāmikoktajīrṇoddhārāṣṭabandhanakriyākrama and breaks off at the paryagnikaraṇa connected with vāstuśānti, leaving the text incomplete.

On fol. 1b is stated: śrīmatkāmikapaddhatyāḥ sulocanam idaṃ satāṃ pūrvācāryaiś ca vidvadbhiḥ saraṇis samudāhṛtā / ahaṃ tadanuguṇyena vakṣye saṃkṣipya yuktitaḥ.

This text may be a part of the Sulocanapaddhati (n° 239. 1) which starts with an incomplete version of Mahāpañcagavyarūpavāstuśuddhi and ends with Tripakṣayajanavidhi.

The fly-leaf 'a' has the maṅgalasloka from the Raghuvaṃśa of Kālidāsa.

[104a]-[105b]: Śivarātripūjāvidhi; 30. [105b]-[109b]: Kṛttikādīpa.

This text starts with an incomplete version of the Sakalārcanavidhi. The colophons of 15 paṭala-s refer to the Svāyambhuva as the source, 3, to the Uttarasvāyambhuva and the remaining 12, to none. But we can surmise that they too have the Svāyambhuvāgama as their source because the speaker is Rudra and the listener is Nidhaneśa.

450.6 SVĀYAMBHUVA

Rathamāna

This text gives measurements for making a chariot. The colophon states that it is part of the Yānasaṃhitā of Gautamamata in the Svāyambhuva. It agrees with the IFP. T. 40, pp. 229-242. But we do not find any division of the Āgama into saṃhitā or mata.

Beginning

450.8 MAKUṬAMAHĀTANTRA

This text of the Makuṭatantra contains 9 paṭala-s:

1. Fols. [119a]-[122b]: Liṅgasthāpana; 2. [123a]-[126b]: Bhasmasnānavidhi; 3. [126b]-[128a]: Āsanādividhi; 4. [128a]-[130a]: Arcanāṅgavidhi; 5. [130a]-[161b]: Nityārcanavidhi; 6. [161b]-[163a]: Agnikāryavidhi; 7. [163]: Kṣetrapālārcanavidhi; 8. [163b]-[164a]: Dīkṣāvidhi; 9. [164a]-[179a]: Śivotsavavidhi.

All the paṭala-s except the 1st and the 8th, have colophons. The major portion of the 1st paṭala is about the description of the Āgama-s but there are some sentences about Liṅgasthāpana. Though the beginning of the 8th paṭala states that Dīkṣāvidhi will be dealt with in that paṭala, it contains only the Aṅkurārpaṇavidhi which is a preliminary rite to Dīkṣā.

General contents

1. Fols. 1a-81a: Mantrasāra by Dāmodara; 2. 81b-82a: Āpaduddhāraṇabhairava-mahāmantra; 3. 82b-88a: Devīmāhātmya: Mahāśāstṛmantrakalpa; 4. 88b-99a: Mahāśāstṛkalpa(Meruprastāra): Śāstṛpūjā; 5. 101a-103a: Bhairavadhyāna and Mantra; 6. 104a-110b: Bagalāmukhīmantra.

Fly-leaf 2a has the title Mantrasārasaṃgraha; fly-leaf 3a, the names of deities whose mantra-s are given in the first text; fol. 81a, a few lines probably from some purāṇa; fols. 99a-101a, an incomplete account of mahāśāstṛmantra and yantra; fol. 110, some mantra-s in Tamil; fol. 111 has the fragment of bhairava-mantra(Tamil and Sanskrit).

451.1 MANTRASĀRA

by

Dāmodara

This text, written in verse form by one Dāmodara, son of Nīlakaṇṭha, deals elaborately with mantra-s of Vīrabhadra, Durgā, Kārtavīrya, and others. The text is in the form of an interlocution between the preceptor and the disciple. It is the same as GOML. D. 8012 and complete. It has 13 paṭala-s. The colophon of the 11th paṭala claims to be that of the 10th.

Beginning

Fol. 1a, 1. 1. mahitamuktitalālayam iṣṭadamahiṣamūrdhni lasatpadapaṃkajam / manasi * mama * danasodarīṃ * dhāma maheśvarijīvitam / atha kadā sukhāsīnan dhyāyandaṃ[taṃ] brahma śāśvataṃ / kṛtamohāc carājāpa(?) svādhyāyaḷa(?) vilanṭiyam(?) bhasmoddhūḷitasarvāṃgaṃ tripuṇḍrojjvala-mastakam / akṣamālākṛtottaṃsaṃ graiveyavalayānvitam / śuklamālyāmbara-dharaṃ śuklayajñopavītinam /
